Make A Plan Now

September is National Preparedness Month and PSEG Long Island wants to remind its customers of the importance of preparing for disasters and emergencies. Emergencies can happen at any time and preparing ahead of time helps keep everyone safe.

"We want our customers to think about this year’s National Preparedness Month theme, ‘A Lasting Legacy,’ because the life you’ve built is worth protecting," said David Lyons, interim president and COO of PSEG Long Island. "The safety of our employees, our customers and our contractors has always been PSEG Long Island’s top priority, and we partner with groups like the United Way to help spread the word. Taking the time to prepare and having a plan limits the negative impact of an emergency."

Here's how customers can prepare for severe storms and other emergencies:

1. Ensure you have a battery-powered radio and fresh batteries.
2. Check your supply of flashlights, blankets, nonperishable food and bottled water.
3. Create an emergency communications plan.
4. Develop an evacuation plan.
5. Charge your cell phones, tablets and other mobile devices.
6. Make sure to have cash available. Banks may be closed or inaccessible after a storm.
7. Fill up your vehicle’s fuel tank.
8. Bring in unsecured objects and furniture from patios and balconies.
9. Compile a list of emergency phone numbers, including PSEG’s 24-hour service number: 800-490-0075.
11. Be aware that downed wires should always be considered “live.” Do not approach or drive over a downed line, and do not touch anything it might be in contact with. If a wire falls on or near your car, stay inside the car, call 911 and do not get out until PSEG de-energizes the line. If you must exit the vehicle because it is on fire, jump as far as possible away from the vehicle, with both feet landing on the ground at the same time, and hop or shuffle away.

Stay connected:
1. Download the PSEG Long Island mobile app to report outages and receive information on restoration times, crew locations and more.
2. To report an outage and receive status updates via text, text OUT to PSEGLI (773454) or visit www.pseglny.com/outages.

For the Gonzalez-Martinez family time has not flown by. A decade after Super Storm Sandy devastated thousands of homes and displaced tens of thousands living here on Long Island, United Way of Long Island is still hard at work getting families back in their homes.

We have all seen the devastation in Puerto Rico, Florida and along the eastern seaboard, scenes that look all too familiar. For more information or to help those who are still struggling please visit: www.unitedwayli.org still helping families, ten years later...

Thank You...

With all of your support we were able to raise $190,000 at this year’s Gala for United Way of Long Island!

The LIIC brings together the insurance community to change the lives of Long Islanders in need, as well as making a difference in the communities where we live and work.

“United Way of Long Island is honored to receive the continued support from the Long Island Insurance Community,” said Theresa A. Regnante, President and CEO of United Way of Long Island. “The funds raised create opportunities for Long Islanders in all communities, particularly seniors, young adults, veterans, and working families.”

On September 22, 2022, the Long Island Insurance Community (LIIC) held its 26th annual Gala at The Mansion at Oyster Bay in Woodbury, raising $190,000 to benefit United Way of Long Island and other causes. Over 200 guests were in attendance participating in additional fundraising efforts to support the community and assisting in creating better lives for Long Islanders.

The annual LIIC Gala honors our business and industry leaders who exhibit their commitment to the community resulting in an improved quality of life for Long Islanders in need, and assisting the most vulnerable.

“We are truly honored to receive this award, and even though the award says Liberty Mutual, everyone should be proud because this achievement wouldn’t be possible without everyone’s help,” said this year’s honoree Carl Canales, Senior Vice President and Field Executive for the Northeast region.

“United Way of Long Island is honored to receive the continued support from the Long Island Insurance Community,” said Theresa A. Regnante, President and CEO of United Way of Long Island. “The funds raised create opportunities for Long Islanders in all communities, particularly seniors, young adults, veterans, and working families.”

All proceeds benefit United Way of Long Island’s Mission United initiative which supports programs that serve Long Island’s Active Military, Veterans and their families in the areas of case management and emergency financial assistance.
This year’s team is in the home stretch raising over $26,000 of their $24,000 goal. We are now looking to our past marathon runners, now known as our Legacy Runners, to spread the word and help us once again in supporting Long Island veterans.

United Way of Long Island is an Official Charity Partner of the TCS New York City Marathon. United Way’s Team Mission United is a dedicated group of competitive and recreational athletes who run 26.2 miles to raise funds for Mission United, supporting over 97,000 Long Island veterans and military members. Since its inception in 2016, Team Mission United runners have raised over $150,000.

Programs
On September 9, volunteers loaded school buses with boxes filled with donated supplies, including pencils, pens, markers, notebooks, backpacks, and more. These items were supplied to over 5,000 students from Brentwood, Central Islip, Freeport, and Wyandanch schools.

“It our pleasure, as a company, to make this connection to our community and our students. We know that these supplies are essential to the learning process and all at STS take great pleasure in knowing that we are part of helping our children learn,” said John Corrado, President of Suffolk Transportation Service, Inc.

Since its inception in 2008, Stuff-A-Bus has delivered over 1,000,000 school supplies to 45,000 children. To learn more about Stuff-A-Bus, visit www.unitedwayli.org/stuffabus.

“We are so grateful to all the organizations who responded to our annual stuff a bus initiative. Sending kids to school with new supplies is game changing for a good start to the year. Education, financial stability and health are our core values and we are happy to invest in Children across Long Island,” said Theresa A. Regnante, President and CEO of United Way of Long Island.
